DEC 2019 MEETING FOR BUSINESS MINUTES

Corvallis Friends Meeting for Business

December 8, 2019

Clerk: Susan Easton

Recording Clerk: Esther Schiedel

Friends present: Judy Hays-Eberts, Nancy Ewald, Ruth McNeill, Carmen Brummet, Bob Burton, Mary Jane Gray, Wendy Robinson, Sid Rosen, Bob Henderson, Nina Joy Lawrence

Meeting began with expectant quiet.

Wendy read the following passage from Faith and Practice, NPYM

Friends make decisions in the faith that there is one divine Spirit which is accessible to everyone and that when we follow the Light of Truth within, we find unity and right action. When we are faithful in discernment, we become more patient, listen more carefully, feel stronger bonds of community, and are more sensitive to divine nudges. We find ourselves transformed and aligned with the Spirit.

Friends approved the November minutes as published in the newsletter.

The Treasurer's Report was submitted and accepted with gratitude. Wendy noted that we have a substantial amount of money on hand (around $40,000) in our brokerage account. We discussed increasing our yearly donations to the organizations we contribute to. We will season this idea until next Meeting for Business, and Wendy will go ahead with our annual donations.

Currently the Meeting accepts stock donations—which are sold, converted into cash and held in an account at Edward Jones. Wendy provided us with information about Friends Fiduciary, which is a non-profit investment company that serves many Friends organizations (including NPYM) and engages in socially responsible investing. Would we as a Meeting want to put some of our funds into this company? Friends could use it to make stock donations to the Meeting, our investments could earn money (although they could also lose money). We will season this proposal.

One of our annual donations as a Meeting is to the City of Corvallis in lieu of property taxes. Friends approved that we request this donation to go towards bias incident response efforts

Spiritual Care Committee reported that Friendly Sevens groups have been formed and should begin meeting.

Announcements after Meeting for Worship are taking up a lot of time and the Committee is considering ways to streamline this. They shared some ideas: curtailing the amount of details given verbally, using a whiteboard in the Fellowship Room for a calendar of events, restricting the types of announcements. They welcome suggestions.

The fall Retreat was cancelled due to illness. At this time there are no plans for a Retreat in the near future.

Friends are encouraged to sign up to help at the Men's Cold Weather Shelter during the last three weeks in March (although they can certainly volunteer there at other times).

Some Friends have requested that we have more floor seating available in the worship room. We discussed moving or getting rid of one of the wooden benches. Friends approved moving one of the benches into the Fellowship Room after we take down our giving tree.

Adult Religious Exploration reviewed the schedule for the rest of the month: we'll learn some simple dances on the 15th; hold a celebratory potluck (think colorful, think yummy!) on the 22nd and distribute our giving tree items; share our process for holding others in the light on the 29th.

Children's Education: Nina reported that the planned activities have inspired the children to attend. Volunteers are needed to help with the children next Sunday.

Peace Justice and Environment

Sid reported the overnight use of the Meetinghouse by the War Tax Resisters went well and they were appreciative of our letting them meet there. He wondered whether we wanted to change our policies in regard to that kind of use by groups. We decided our existing guidelines should remain and the Scheduler can contact Meeting for Business for approval for any requests for exceptions.

Scheduler: a reminder that members of the

New in the Library

Belonging to the Black Crows: A Lakota Journey, by Dorothy Black Crow. The author moved from mainstream America to a Sioux Nation reservation when she got married. She tells the story of how it changed her life. She had to learn, for instance, that the land is alive, that nothing is as important as the extended family, and that generosity, courage and endurance are the greatest goals. She learned from living in basic, primitive conditions.

Holiday Giving Trees Enliven Potluck Celebration, Now Will Help Corvallis Neighbors

By the time of December's holiday potluck party, the two giving trees in the meetinghouse social room had grown to include nearly 400 items on the food giving tree, and over 800 diapers and rolls of toilet paper on the t.p. tree. With their sparkling lights, they added much good cheer to the holiday celebration.

We were joined by Sheila O'Keefe and Olive Davis, the directors of the South and North Corvallis food banks, who told us of the increasing number of folks (over 1200 a month) who depend on each of the food banks and of the decreasing amounts of food available from state, county, and local sources.

After the meal the [choose one: fun, chaos] began as the trees were dismantled and the items tallied and divided into boxes for the two food banks. Many willing hands, both children's and adult's, made relatively quick work of the distribution, carrying of boxes to the cars waiting to transport

Meeting can request a private use of the Meetinghouse once a year without charge [this should be put into the User's Manual—I didn't see it in there]

The Giving Tree is growing. Items got rearranged inadvertently and the toilet paper will be moved against the wall.

Meeting closed with worship.

Next Meeting for Business – January 12, 2020

The Handless Maiden: A Lakota Mystery Story by Dorothy Black Crow. This story is set in the late sixties when the American Indian Movement was at its height. The Lakota heroine and hero investigate the death of a young woman, a friend of the heroine, whose hands, tatooed "Red Power" have been cut off.

Both books donated and signed by Dorothy Black Crow them to the two food banks, and cleanup of the social room.

When weighed in at the food banks, our donations totaled 563 pounds, or over a quarter ton! Sheila and Olive expressed gratitude on behalf of all the food bank clients to everyone at CFM who helped make the holiday giving trees such a success.

Advices and Queries on Silence

All of us need to find a way into silence which allows us to deepen our awareness of the Divine and to find the inward source of our strength.

Amid the busyness of daily living, we seek to return to the stillness which grounds us.

We value silence, not as an end but as a means toward the end, which is communication with the Divine and fellowship with one another.

We must not remain silent when something is wrong, or when we are led to speak out.

Seek to be formed by a practice of silence, as a foundation for a mindful life.

- Do we set aside times of quiet for openness to the Spirit?
- How do we bring stillness into our daily lives?
- Do we seek to be formed by a living silence? How are our lives shaped by the practice of stillness?
- Do our hearts dwell in the silence beneath everyday busyness?
